Michelle and Todd Eicher, with daughter Alyson, 2, were among 130 families who attended the fourth annual Baby Harvest sponsored by Albany IVF at Hoffay Farms in Averill Park on Oct. 1. The event is designed to reunite families from upstate New York whom the practice has helped experience the joys of parenthood, featured fun family activities, including pumpkin painting and carving, tractor rides and clown magicians. Many attendees and their children donned costumes, and prizes were awarded in various categories, including 'cutest,' 'most original' and 'scariest!'
